IMPROVE JOB SATISFACTION AND ENGAGEMENT WITH MINDFUL STRENGTHS USE

Increased engagement. Higher productivity. Lower error rates. Research says these powerful results are possible when people are aware of and apply their character strengths—the positive personality traits that reflect their true selves. Similarly, multiple studies have shown that mindfulness practices reduce burnout, enhance emotional regulation and promote job satisfaction.

Help your group or organization understand the positive impact of mindfulness and character strengths, and how to put these practices into action, with this webinar. Live facilitation and group discussion will cover research-backed tips from some of the world's leading experts. Your group will learn:

- What the top 5 character strengths and 5 facets of mindfulness mean to them and others
- How character strengths and mindfulness relate to effective listening and speaking
- Strengths-based mindfulness practices they can implement to regulate emotions, manage stress and more

By developing strong mindfulness, your group will be able to approach their work with greater attention and diligence. This webinar's activities will help them unlock their potential to connect strengths with purpose and mindfulness.
